Smithwick Trial Continued When Witness Missing

BELTON, Tex., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Judge Wesley Dice today ordered the murder trial of Sam Smithwick continued until Jan. 16, 1950. The portly former Alice, Tex., law enforcement officer is charged in the slaying of a crumpled car.

A few minutes later the judge ordered the continuance, which was asked by Henry Taylor of Temple, attorney for the 61-year-old Jim Wells county deputy sheriff. The continuance was granted because of the absence of an important defense witness, Juan F. Saenz of Duval county.

Defense attorneys said Saenz was near the scene of the shooting and would testify that he saw a soft green Smithwick and Mason before the shooting.

The court issued an order for Saenz's arraignment so that when found he can be put in custody to assure his being in court when the case is called to trial on Jan. 16.

It was the second continuance in the case on grounds of absence of witnesses. However, Saenz had not been subpoenaed prior to the previous trial date.

Smithwick looked very solemn as court opened. He chewed occasionally on gum. He was dressed in high-heeled cowboy boots, a clean white starched shirt, yellow and blue tie, navy blue cardigan sweater and navy blue pants.

The state had announced itself despite the fact only 10 of its 22 witnesses were present. Only three of 10 defense witnesses were on hand.

Judge Dice dismissed the special venire of 100 men called for the trial. Most of the 100 were present. The next regular term of court here begins Jan. 2.

Americans Safely Returned From Northern Korea

SEOUL, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Two evacuated American officials were back from North Korea today after 15 days confinement by Communists.

They were returned yesterday. The Soviet regime indicated it had given up on its apparent attempt to get some form of United States recognition in exchange for the economic cooperation administration aides who were delivered to them by munitions ship's crew.

Albert B. Willis, 40, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Alfred F. Meschter, 28, of Kinderhook, N. Y., shocked Willis' blonde, little wife with their appearance.

Beatrice Willis estimated her husband lost almost a pound a day and said it would take a lot of home cooking to undo the damage.

Meschter said the two men were reasonably fit—especially compared with the week before when the Communists started feeding them well in preparation for their return. They were not physically mistreated, he said.

Meschter and Willis, members of the MCA Marine Bureau, sailed as crew advisers on the South Korean operated American freighter Kimball R. Smith from Pusan Sept. 20.

The following day, Willis said, the entire ship's crew joined a mutiny.

The U. S. Army-owned ship was welcomed the following day at Chinnampo, North Korea.

Americans were confined for the most part in hotel under armed guard.

Ward And Staff Safely On Board Evacuation Ship

Consul General Declares Treatment By Reds "Hellish"

ABOARD LAKELAND VICTORY, OFF TIENSIN, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Consul General Angus Ward and his 18-member party boarded this evacuation ship today and declared he had suffered "hellish treatment" at the hands of Chinese Communists.

Ten United States officials, who were caught at his consulate by the fall of Mukden to Chinese Reds more than a year ago, declared his final freedom made him feel just as one would "after St. Peter lets you in."

It was the first time in 13 months Ward has been able to move without an armed escort. And 28 days he was in a Chinese Communist jail in solitary confinement, in Mukden. On 24 of those days he was kept in unheated, overcrowded quarters in freezing temperatures.

He lost 25 pounds. His jail menu was six slices of bread daily, and hot water. "That's not a very strengthening or fattening diet," he quipped.

For all members of the party, including Mrs. Ward, several women and some children, it was the first time they had not been under Red surveillance since Nov. 20, 1948. Then the Reds closed the consulate and clamped such secrecy on their movements even the U. S. state department knew virtually nothing about them.

U.S. Reported To Plan Protection For Formosa Isle

MANILA, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The United States has informed the Philippines government that it will "take positive action to counteract the Communist threat to Formosa," a high source at Malacanang Palace said today.

The source said that it was understood the U. S. would send adequate arms to enable Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to hold his last Nationalist stronghold.

Washington sources said Sunday that the United States was prepared to give Chiang economic and diplomatic support, but not new military aid.

The Malacanang source said "it is very assuring to us." Formosa, an island athwart the U. S. defense chain in the Far East, is next door to the Philippines.

Youth Is Fatally Shot Near Kerens Sunday Afternoon

KERENS, Dec. 12.—(Spl.)—Horace Glenn Glasco, 16, was instantly killed Sunday at 2 p. m. on the H. W. Hoffer farm, six miles south of Kerens, when a 12-gauge shotgun was accidentally discharged.

Melvin Penney, justice of the peace, said the youth had leaned the gun against a tree and as he prepared to get a drink of water from a creek, the firearm fell with the charge striking him in the head.

Russell Landy, a brother-in-law, was with the youth at the time. The justice of the peace returned a verdict of accidental death following an investigation.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Baptist Church in Hazette, with Rev. John Wood, pastor, conducting, and Rev. Conn. of Rural Shade, assisting.

Burial was in the Prairie Point cemetery.

Survivors are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Glasco; five brothers, Melvin, Kerens; Jack, Cayuga; Bernice, Clint; Corsicana; Clifford, Beaumont; and Eldredge, Rice; five sisters: Mrs. Mabel Landy, Mrs. Linnie Radney, and Mrs. Ruth Kaele, all of Kerens; Mrs. Mary Williams, Corsicana; and Miss Hazel Glasco, Corsicana. Blizzard Sweeping Over Texas And Most Other Portions Of United States

Tornadoes Come In Advance Of Low Temperature

By The Associated Press.

Rain, snow, sleet, fog and bitter cold buffeted the Nation today.

The variety of severe weather conditions followed tornadoes, blizzards and lightning which killed at least 12 persons over the weekend.

Weather-related causes resulted in at least 35 deaths. Monday's weather map showed Central and Western parts of the country in the grip of very cold temperatures.

Denver had one below zero, Bismarck, N. D., zero, Flagstaff, Ariz., 12 below, and Glasgow, Mont., 18 below.

Mild weather in the Midwest spread showers moved from the Midwest into the eastern third of the nation. Heavy fog slowed transportation in New York City a second successive day.

Snow flurries and strong winds whistled through Minnesota, Wisconsin, and upper Michigan, temperatures plunged in their wake.

Sleet and snow extended from North Central Texas to Southeastern Oklahoma, making traffic hazardous.

Property damage from the tornadoes which lashed North Central Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Illinois was high. Arkansas alone estimated its damage might reach $100,000.

All the tornado dead are in Arkansas and Missouri. The twisters hammered six Arkansas communities yesterday, killed three persons and injured ten. Many escaped the fury by taking shelter in cellars.

The communities hit were Clinton, Beedee, Velvet Ridge, Cross Roads, Providence and Bradenton.

Sandra Petersen Old Enough For Murder Trial Now

BRADY, Tex., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Will Sandra Petersen be tried for murder?

She is old enough now, 18. But officers aren't sure when she'll be tried for the murder of a Brady man who on Aug. 25 gave Sandra and a girl companion a hitchhike a lift.

Yesterday, in a cell on the top floor of Brady's jail, Sandra celebrated her 18th birthday. There were no visitors.

She is accused of shooting Lewis Patterson to death and leaving his body in a roadside ditch.

Under Texas law, no one under the age of 18 can be tried on a murder charge.

Sandra, a Somerville, Mass., has been held as a juvenile delinquent here since Oct. 28.

Loretta Fae Mazingo, 15, of Austin, her companion, has been held in custody of the State Youth Development Council.

Sheriff Bennie Willborn said yesterday he had asked District Attorney Ralston P. Egan about arrangements for Sandra's trial.

The DA didn't seem to know just when she'll be tried, he said.

Hau said a new term of district court opens in Brady Jan. 2.

A file will be considered at that time. If Sandra's case is on file, it will be considered. That's all I can tell you.

Demo Chairmen Of Texas Launch Campaign Shortly

DALLAS, Dec. 12.—(AP)—The Texas Association of Democratic County Chairmen will start an "Educational Campaign" soon.

The association is seeking to educate individuals who believe that the association is seeking to usurp the functions of other party groups.

W. B. Biggs of Greenville, president, said today.

The educational program will be designed to show that we have no such desire, and that we wish only to work with other groups for the good of the party as a whole.

For the first time, federal committee met Saturday at Waco to plan the campaign, Biggs said.

Texas Changes Typical Texan Is No Longer Cowboy

There's a disheartening blow in store, too, for the unmarried miss who comes to Texas seeking a man.

The figure has risen to 8.4 per cent.

There is no positive data on the change since. But there is evidence—in the booming cities and the quiescent rural areas—that the trend has quickened greatly.

What it means is that the Lone Star State, though still a cattle and crop area, has become industrialized.

Massive population shifts to accommodate the mushroom growth of war industries have played. Many industries have seen the advantages of Texas—and have moved from the industrial East.

But most of all there was the population lived in urban areas—cities of 2,500 and more. By 1940 the figure had risen to 8.4 per cent.

TEACHERS URGED TO STRIVE FOR PROFESSIONAL GROWTH IN ADDRESS BY DR. WILEY

Dr. Margaret Lee Wiley, combining wisdom with wit, urged teachers to seek professional growth and to ignore the chronological age in educational advancement. The professor, a member of the English department of East Texas State College at Commerce, addressed members of the Alpha Rho chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, Thursday evening in a dinner program contribution to the Kinsloe Home celebration.

She said that learning and advancing in education was possible at the chronological age of 80 years. "Promoting Educational Efficiency Through Professional Growth" was the teacher's subject. "I think of education as the ratio of knowledge propounded to the energy and training invested," she declared. "The teacher who defined educational efficiency as a goal and professional growth as the means of achieving it."

Telling teachers that they live in a society not always generous with them, Dr. Wiley said that they sometimes achieve great things because of their withdrawal from the world affairs of which they have been chased.

Defining professional growth as a "better way of doing things," Dr. Wiley said that one may still be young enough at 50 to 60 to learn as well as teaching, that retirement takes into account only a chronological age and that even in advanced years teachers can still be learning and sharing what they learn.

She said that professional growth was possible through continuing study in graduate schools and that because of the current trend to work for educational advancement at Saturday classes, the "week-end M. A." is getting a good many people up early in the morning.

She suggested workshops and short courses as another means. Membership in various organizations such as the N. E. A., T. E. A., and other groups and departmental groups was urged by the speaker. Travel and creative recreation were urged as the final two means in a program she called "five-pointed star."

Teachers have to watch themselves, because others are watching them, claimed Dr. Wiley, who urged "Let not your halo be your

Mrs. Samuel W. Halprin Elected To Serve Third Term As Head Of Zionist Group Hadassah

Mrs. Samuel W. Halprin of New York has been elected by Hadassah, the women's Zionist organization in America, as its national president for a third term. In its mid-November convention in San Francisco Hadassah also accepted budgets totalling $6,000,000 for the year 1950-51, and the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights and anti-genocide convention and passed strong resolutions which condemn the UN proposal to partition Palestine.

Hadassah's budgets, which are to be raised by October 1, 1950, have been characterized by Mrs. Nathan D. Perlman, New York, national convention chairman, as "a minimal financial goal, for which an overwhelming over-subscription will be sought."

Appealing to the American government "to exert its influence in the United Nations in support of a resolution to end the problem of Jerusalem which shall safeguard its holy places and at the same time insure that the New City of Jerusalem shall be incorporated into the State of Israel," she resolved to reject the United Nations Commission's recommendation to internationalize the Holy City as "unjust and impractical."

The proposed plan, according to Hadassah leaders, would again place Jerusalem under alien jurisdiction, mocking the sacrifices and aspirations of its population.

Moreover, these leaders say, such a plan would seriously impede efforts to stabilize the Middle East, constitute a serious threat to peace in that area. The resolution stated it backed the State of Israel's acceptance of that part of the commission's proposal which asked for international supervision of the Holy City, and that it was in the Old City, held by the Arabs.

The genocide resolution urged prompt ratification of the convention by the United States, and recommended that Hadassah's 270,000 members individually write their senators to urge its approval as soon as possible. On human rights, the resolution pressed for completion of the UN commission's work on the Declaration so that it would be presented to member nations and urged "that the Covenant in treaty form be presented to the United States Senate for an early vote so that it could become a part of the law of this land."

Among the honored convention guests was Eddie Cantor, noted radio and screen star, for whom seven housing units in a new Hadassah children's center in Israel will be named. The units will be a cooperative community yet to be designated.

The seven Cantor houses represent contributions totalling $35,000 which the radio star helped collect. "To put a roof over the heads of the despaired and persecuted Jewish children, who but for the grace of God and the accidents of history might have been our own kids," he said.

The influx of 300,000 Jewish immigrants into Israel in the past year can be compared to the entry of 45,000,000 immigrants into the United States, Hadassah leaders point out.

There are 220 settlements and institutions in which Youth Aliyah wards are being maintained and educated for constructive pursuits in Israel.

Barbara Joyce Copeland, Peggy Kidd, Wayne Autrey, Elmin Howell, Mary Winstead, Wayne Howell, Virginia Fleming, and Odell Williams were also present.

Acting to meet a health emergency, the immigrant camps of Israel, Hadassah also announced it would take over a 100 bed children's hospital in one of the largest reception centers for new comers to the Jewish State set up four health welfare stations in others and rush teams of experts to clearing stations requiring control of trachoma, virulent Middle East eye disease, ringworm and other illnesses being brought in by Jews from Arab lands. The hospital is in Rosh-Ar-ayim, north of Tel Aviv.

The lack of medical care for children in the crowded emergency camps was revealed by the new expansion of Hadassah's 87 year old health program is being made at the urgent request of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, the body which aids Israel in the absorption of its new population.

Hadassah now runs four hospitals in Jerusalem with a bed capacity of 380, and will shortly open there an additional 70 bed tuberculosis hospital in the Holy City, in which 35 beds will be for tubercular children, the first such unit in the country.

In addition, the group will open a new 120-40 bed general tuberculosis hospital in Safad, in the north, in building given to Hadassah by the Government of Israel, to replace one demolished by Arab gunfire. In Beersheba, Hadassah will open the first hospital in the southern desert section, next month, a 60 bed institution, designed to service the whole territory for Jew and Arab alike.

Tuberculosis is a menace in Israel, and Hadassah will concentrate on the care of children in the reception centers because the highest threat is among them.

Hadassah has opened a mental hygiene and child guidance clinic to deal with the potential neuroses, inevitable among people who have endured the horrors of Israel's new existence, according to Dr. Eli Davis, Jerusalem, Hadassah medical director. The mixed population, beset by environmental problems, the struggle to learn a new language and the strain of economic adjustment indicate a careful treatment of the youngest generation and their parents in order to avoid psychological reactions a decade from now, the medical director states.

Medical leaders predicted that Hadassah was helping to build up one of the great medical centers of the world, one that will take its place with glorious permanence.

Next IOOF Grandmaster Plans To Make Headquarters At IOOF Home

Corsicana will be the headquarters of the Grand Lodge of Texas, IOOF, along with Dallas and Edinburg in 1950.

Ted Jasperon of Edinburg, deputy grand master, who will be elevated to the grand master's post in March at the meeting of the grand lodge in Dallas, was granted permission Thursday by the trustees to occupy an apartment in one wing of the hospital building at the IOOF.

"That will allow me to better care for the duties as grand master since it is more than 400 miles to Edinburg from Corsicana," the deputy grand master pointed out. Corsicana is near the center of the IOOF Lodges.

Any changes in the quarters will be done by the grand lodge executive without cost to the Order.

Mike Fevete of Beaumont, a trustee, also a former grand master of Texas IOOF, remarked that it was the first time he had ever known a man to leave his home to be grand master.

Many high ranking figures of the order attended the board sessions Thursday including C. M. McLaughlin, Tyler, grandmaster; Jasperon, S. M. (Stump) Williams, Dallas, grand secretary; J. W. Hampton, Dallas, past treasurer; W. T. Savage, Dallas, past grandmaster and former trustee chairman; H. B. Lummus, Ennis, grand scribe, Grand Encampment of Texas, and others.

Farmers Of Texas Suing To Block Acreage Ruling

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Ten Texas farmers sued in U. S. District Court here today to block the agriculture department's interpretation of the new cotton acreage quota law.

As growers of cotton in 11 Gulf coastal Bend counties, they asked that Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and his department be restrained from enforcing its announced program under the law.

They do not seek any increase in the Texas allocation of 7,632,025 acres under the 1950 acre control program, but contend an injustice is being done by the manner under which the acreage quotas within the state are being assigned.

A proper construction of the cotton acreage law as passed during the last session of congress, they assert, would give them 145,000 acres more than the 274,125 acres allotted under the Texas program as announced by Brannan.

William H. Shireman, Corpus Christi attorney, filed the suit.

He made it clear it does not challenge the constitutionality of the cotton acreage law, but only the agriculture department's application of it.

The plaintiffs are Richard C. Miller, Orange; Grover C. V. Rauch, Robstown; Cecil Vickars, Sinton; N. B. Tanner, Kingsville; Grover Impson, Beeville; Sam B. Ricks, Karnes City; A. E. Adolph, Three Rivers; W. E. Abney, Woodboro; J. H. Ewing, Floresville, and Ernest W. Wehman, Pleasanton.

That First Important Year

By W. P. BROWN
Of Johnson's Pharmacy

Growth is more rapid in the first year of a child's life than in any other. In order that your baby may progress both mentally and physically to the full extent of his capabilities, he should receive monthly attention by a physician.

For in that first year of rapid growth diet changes have to be made at the proper time, training habits should be carefully established, development must be checked, and protection against childhood diseases is necessary.

A reliable druggist will promptly fill all medical needs as the doctor orders.

SAVINGS BONDS

Treasury reports have shown a reduction in public holdings of series E savings bonds this fall. These are the bonds in small denominations, sold at three-fourths of maturity value, intended primarily for small investors. The series E bond was introduced in 1941 as a war bond, and since then has proved steadily popular. But in September and October sales were less than redemptions.

Budget Bureau people are said to be studying plans to stimulate the sales of these bonds again. It is also reported that there are some financial experts who think that the government ought to give up the E bonds, rather than make a new investment in their sale. But there are good reasons for keeping the E bonds, aside from the fact that they have heretofore been a reliable source of cash.

These savings bonds have lived up to their name, for they have encouraged people with small incomes to establish regular plans of saving, and to keep a certain amount of savings intact, through ordinary variations in circumstance, as a safeguard for the future. They have also greatly broadened the base of the public debt, have helped greater number of people to have a more real conception of what the public debt is, for they own a piece of it. These values of the series E bonds to the people ought to be considered along with their value to the Treasury.

MARK TWAIN GIFT

Think of the thrill of reading an unpublished book by Mark Twain. Then imagine if you can the superthrill aroused by reading 400 books by him which never saw the light of day. The University of California will be the proud owner of a priceless collection of unpublished Twain manuscripts, according to President Robert G. Sproul. The manuscripts come from Twain's daughter, Mrs. Clemens Samossoud, who has announced her intention of bequeathing them to the university. The bequest includes 45 notebooks and diaries, many family photographs, and business records, besides an autobiography published hitherto only in part.

Mark Twain was a man of many homes, ranging from the Far West to Hartford, Connecticut. His greatest literary achievement, however, was inspired by the Mississippi River and the West. His first successful story, "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County," was published in California. It is therefore appropriate that the Golden State should inherit this unequalled collection of writings by one of America's greatest and best beloved authors.

IDEA ABOUT FRANCE

Is the French government really unstable? Many Americans think so, bearing in mind that governments rarely last more than a few months. The record under the republic is only three years, and that established as far back as 1902.

Appearances are deceiving, says Andre Philip, chairman of the committee that drew up the present French constitution. Writing in the New York Times Magazine, he points out that a ministry is forced out by an adverse vote in the Chamber of Deputies, most of the members are reappointed. The premier may change, but not most of his subordinates. Thus, before World War II, Aristide Briand, an old-time worker for peace,

QUESTION PERIOD.

Now, the happy time when I must pretend I don't know why suddenly I'm asked to state: "Is your love size seven, or eight?"

Silly as the questions come, just as silly I play dumb; saying nothing when I hear: "Handkerchiefs are nice this year."

Curious things they ask about: "Are your garters wearing out?" This one from a little maid: "What's your favorite razor blade?"

There's no happier time than this. One I never want to miss. Children coaxing me to say: "What I'd like for Christmas Day."

FEWER GOOD BOOKS

held the ministry of foreign affairs for term after term, despite the frequent changes in the premiership. Philip says that since the war the British government has had more changes than the French. Presumably he is thinking of the wholesale new appointments that came about when labor overthrew Winston Churchill.

Philip disposes of some of the doubts about French governmental stability, but not all. Admittedly the premier is changed often, but still oftener is in jeopardy. This must affect his willingness to decide vital problems on their own merits without considering the need to hold his job.

OPINION ON TITO

Returning to the United States for retirement from the post of ambassador to Yugoslavia, Cavendish Cannon expressed the opinion that the break between Yugoslavia and Russia is "gen-uine." While most Americans had already accepted this view, it is nevertheless encouraging to hear it from the lips of a man who has been in an excellent position to judge.

Cannon also said Americans should make no mistake about the fact that Tito and his Yugoslavia are just as Communist now as they were before the quarrel with Moscow began. This, too, Americans know, but at the slightest sign of encouragement we might try to persuade ourselves it is not so. It is a fact that we should not forget.

It is well to make all possible capital of the Tito revolt against Moscow dictatorship. But the Yugoslav affair does not offer any ground for taking up the notion that there are two kinds of Communism. All present signs point to the existence of only one kind.

INDUSTRY STRIKES

Reaction to the recent steel and coal strikes on the part of some workers and the public in general must have caused the most ardent believers in strikes to have moments of doubt as to the wisdom of industry-wide strikes. In the method used to end the steel strike, and in the step taken by John L. Lewis to avert a new coal strike, hints may be found that industry-wide bargaining is being re-examined.

The United Mine Workers policy resolution left the way clear for individual operators to work out agreements with their own miners. It remains to be learned, after contracts are finally made, to what extent the union head will require uniformity in these individual agreements. But the resolution seemed to leave room for variations. The steel contracts, as worked out company by company, had certain uniform elements but also had some variations on the subject which was the nub of the strike cause, the plan for financing pensions.

Industry-wide does not necessarily mean that one contract covers a whole industry. Contracts may be made company by company, but if either management or labor insists on uniform contract provisions throughout an industry, their bargaining is in fact industry-wide. There has been much of such bargaining achieved, and it has seemed to be the goal of most of the larger, more powerful unions. Both owners and workers might have varying opinions about the results of industry-wide bargaining. It works to the advantage of some, to the disadvantage of others. But in one respect it seems to offer a uniform disadvantage: it seems to make contract disputes longer and harder to settle. If that be true, the best course for all concerned, including the public, might be found in more flexible bargaining plans.

AMERICA'S NON-SECRET WEAPON

been established in the child's mind, he should be permitted to choose his own reading. Some young speakers in their teens agreed with Mr. Kiernan, but others declared that even at that period young people should allow themselves to be guided by librarians, teachers and parents.

A middle way would perhaps work out most satisfactorily. The types of books found on parents' shelves and tables, if chosen on the basis of merit, should be a safe browsing field for the growing boy or girl. A timely word of suggestion based on interest rather than morality should be all the guidance needed. Great books need no censorship, but they do need understanding. The modern youth, clear-eyed and well-informed, having been started on the right reading track, should be trusted to choose his own mental food.

BYRNES AND 1952

James F. Byrnes former secretary of state and justice of the Supreme Court, as well as past holder of a larger number of important offices than any man now in public life except possibly Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, is alarmed at the growth of government expenditure and increase in the number of functions. Last June he warned of the perils of "statism," and in a speech before the Southern Governors Conference at Biloxi Miss., he has repeated the admonition.

Byrnes' attack on the administration is from a different angle than those made by the Dixiecrats. They emphasize the race question while Byrnes confines himself to national issues. Nevertheless, it is supposed the Dixiecrats might welcome him to head their ticket, if their fiasco of 1948 has not discouraged them. Byrnes would carry more weight nationally because of his wider reputation, than did Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, the States Rights standard bearer in 1948 whose name was scarcely known outside of his state. But after the honors heaped upon him by two Democratic presidents, Byrnes may not wish to join the bolters and may confine himself to disapproval of the trend of national policy.

USING THE ATOM

To the non-scientific ear, the Atomic Energy Commission's announcement of paper plans for a "breeder" plant which will produce useful work from atomic energy, and will at the same time produce new fuel for tomorrow's operations, is intly reminiscent of the perpetual motion machines which used to be the goal of tireless inventors. We find, however, that not even atomic energy as yet promises to fulfill the myth of perpetual motion. What the scientists hope to do is make atomic fuel from new kinds of materials, thus expanding the total supply. This is necessary to practical use of atomic energy, because of the scarcity of fissionable uranium. In announcing its plan to find new fuels, the Commission also dropped other hints that use of atomic energy is being brought nearer. A working atomic engine to drive a ship and an atomic generator of electric power are said to be within sight. These things indicate gratifying progress toward overcoming the physical obstacles in the way of putting the atom to work.

With regard to political obstacles the situation is more gloomy. Apparently we shall have to put on more steam in the solution of the problems of world peace and international agreement, if we want to be ready to use atomic energy when it becomes available.

The fact that 8,000,000 families and individuals in the United States received less than $1,000 cash in the year of plenty that was 1948 hints that the hand doing the dealing was not the same one doing the shuffling.

A solution for traffic accidents might be to put drivers behind bars as long as their victims are behind hospital walls.

Hawaii, stumping for statehood, seems more qualified for the role as winter snows start swirling on the continent.

It has been suggested that giveaway shows might be given away.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Commissioners Hear Request For Adjustment Of High Tax Valuation

Some of the largest drugstores in Navarro county—including Corsicana—are listed at $2,500 valuations on the tax rolls. It was revealed Monday at a meeting of the Commissioners' Court. But a young Kerens druggist, through an attorney, charged that his small business has been taxed on a $4,000 valuation. "This valuation is higher than a larger drug store across the street," Attorney Jerry Stockard said in asking the court to adjust the figure under terms of statutory provisions. Judge Joe D. Hunsstetter promised consideration of the druggist's application, and an investigation. Pointing to the constitutional provision for "equal and uniform" taxes, Stockard quoted renditions from the county tax rolls on drug stores. A vast majority were under $5,000 in Corsicana. The Kerens business man previously had appeared before the court in person, requesting an adjustment. He was told at that time that he should have petitioned the court when it sat as the board of equalization.

Routine Matters Considered By Hospital Board

There were 37 deliveries and 50 operations. Charity by the hospital during the month was listed at $1,012.45 while the services of physicians were noted at $1,080.

Governors From Mexico Pleased With Visit Here

The Mexican governors and other dignitaries of the neighboring republic and members of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission were favorably impressed and have expressed their appreciation for their visit to Corsicana, Dec. 3-4. The three Mexican governors and party were entertained at the Corsicana Country Club by the Chamber of Commerce and participated in the placing of wreaths at the graves of the late Beauford H. Jester, governor of Texas, and his father, the late George T. Jester, lieutenant governor. John C. Calhoun received a letter from Tom Sutcliffe, executive director of the Good Neighbor Commission, that the governors of Mexico were "deeply impressed by their visit to Corsicana.... I think that by a simple invitation to a Texas town and participating with the Mexicans in a religious act of respect for a dead friend, none of us know how much our visiting Mexican leaders would be touched.... The Corsicana visit and ceremony made the most lasting impression that they took back to Mexico." The governors were Raul Garate of Tamaulipas, Raul Lopez Sanchez of Coahuila, and Fernando Rogelio Miramontes of Chihuahua.

Wool Production To Be Less Than Domestic Needs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Domestic wool production in 1950 will continue far short of domestic needs, the Agricultural Department predicted. Output is expected to be about the same as this year, 259,000,000 pounds, the department estimated yesterday. The agency also predicted: Slightly larger wool imports next year and a slight drop in price; price supports may be a little higher than in 1949 but this year's prices have averaged above price supports.

Faith, Freedom, Security— Nation's Economy Would Be Wrecked Without Support Prices To Farmers, Banker Tells Agricultural Workers

By CLYDE E. JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff.

Abolition of farm price supports would wreck the American economy, a Houston banker official declared here Thursday night.

"Support prices are not going to be jerked out from under agriculture all at once," predicted Dooley Dawson, vice president and manager, agriculture department, Second National Bank of Houston. "This would produce a great calamity."

He addressed the Navarro County Agricultural Workers Association, which held a dinner-meeting in the Navarro Hotel Cactus Room. The group elected W. H. Butler, vocational agricultural instructor here, as president for 1950, succeeding Ole Caudle.

Assistant County Agent Curtis Henderson was elected vice president; Bob Claque, ACA administrator, was named secretary and treasurer.

A former teacher and soil conservationist, Dawson spoke on "The Reformation of America," emphasizing the importance of "faith, freedom and security."

"We must believe in the various agencies," he declared. "Business in America is built on faith—not natural resources. Faith in industry and the business empire is built on faith in our fellow man."

"When you help the farmer and rancher, you are helping our business in Houston, New York and everywhere."

Dawson advised the agricultural workers to leave their posts if they had no interest or faith in their work.

"The freedom we keep in America is due to our faith in one another," he said, adding that faith and freedom bring about security.

Dawson explained that critics of the farm program are ignorant of its operation.

"Some of them talk about socialism," he said, "but we're not uneasy about our way of life. Subtle Roberts (Corsicana banker) who was a guest here told you that if all the money in his bank were divided equally among the people of this country, it would be back in the hands of 75 percent of his depositors within a short time."

"You'd keep dividing it to keep it equal."

The speaker indicated Texas had room for lots of improvement in agriculture. He cited national averages of production that were far in front of the Lone Star State, although Texas led in volume production.

"We rank sixteenth in the pounds of cotton produced per acre," he declared. "We have more cows than anyone but rank forty-second in the amount of hay produced per acre. We would have had $300,000,000 more in 1947 if Texas had met the national averages in agricultural production."

"We haven't met the efficiency

Festival Of Lights Will Be Observed

Chanukko, or the Festival of Lights, begins at sundown, Thursday, December 15th, and concludes at sundown, Friday, December 16th.

It commemorates the first successful struggle for religious freedom in human history. The authority for this Festival is found in the Book of Maccabees in the Apocrypha.

Members of the Jewish faith celebrate Chanukko with praise and thanksgiving to God, the Author of all liberty. During this season the religious faith and by precept and example indoctrinates his children with the principles of religious freedom. Every evening songs are sung in the home, candles are lighted, and increasing in number till the eighth night when the Menorah, or candelabrum is ablaze with light.

In the year 165 B. C. E., the Syrian conqueror Antiochus decreed the death of the Jewish religion. Immediately the Jew raised the banner of revolution; inspired bands of guerrillas, under the leadership of Matthias, his five sons, harassed and defeated the great armies of Syria. Jerusalem was recaptured, the Temple was cleansed and rededicated to the worship of the Jewish God.

In this day we have seen the forces of reaction and bigotry try to stamp out the flame of freedom. Again men of good will have successfully sprung the Jewish defense of their God-given rights and liberties.

This Festival of Light and rededication calls on all men, regardless of race or color or creed, to unite in creating a world of freedom, understanding and peace.

The State Home basketball team took an early lead and then widened it to defeat the first time in the history of Navarro County.

A jury commission has been summoned for December 16 in an order signed by A. Mays, judge of the district court, to select 16 prospective grand jurors from whom a grand jury of 12 members will be selected Monday, Jan. 2, 1950, the opening day of the new term of court.

Judge Mays, J. C. Gaston, district clerk, and David Castles, sheriff, will draw the lists for the district court and county clerk, J. Vernon Harwell, county clerk, and Sheriff Castles will select the county jury lists from the wheel.

The names and addresses of men whose names appear on the various tax rolls and lists of Navarro county have been typed and were placed in the big metal wheel contained in the district clerk's office Thursday.

The door to the wheel from which the prospective jurors are drawn is locked with two different locks and the district clerk has the keys, preventing any one person from opening the wheel. District Clerk Gaston has one set of keys and Sheriff Castles has the other.

The jury commission summoned to select the grand jury list is composed of L. M. Morton and John C. Adams, both of Corsicana; S. O. Eyer, Frost, Charles Dixon, Emhouse, and W. S. Price, Jr., mayor of Kerens.

The use of the jury wheel became mandatory under legislation passed by the recent Texas Legislature. Navarro county heretofore had used the jury commission system in selecting jury lists.

Voting Places Of Precincts Are Decided

A decision affecting the voters in Corsicana's newly annexed areas was handed down by City Attorney Julius Jacobs today. He gave his opinion after conferring with County Judge Joe Huffstutler, County Tax Collector Arnold A. Armstrong, and Seta Holey of the county attorney's office.

In future elections, according to Jacobs, residents of the newly annexed areas will vote at their regular boxes, 18 and 41, in county and state elections, but in city elections will vote in the city wards recently set by city ordinances.

In city elections, those residing in the west area south of Fourth avenue will vote at the city hall, and those residing in the west area north of Fourth avenue will vote at the court house.

The confusion in setting the voting places arises from the fact the city commissioners failed to request the county commissioners to change the voting precinct boundaries last August. The commissioners could be the only body which can change the boundary lines and change must be made in August, Jacobs said.

The only boxes affected are 18 in Zion's Rest and 41 at White's Chapel.

Also settled at the meeting of the officials was the matter of exemption certificates.

The state law states that when a person arrives at the age of 60 he may vote with an exemption and not pay a poll tax. However, the voter must obtain an exemption certificate if he lives in a town of 10,000 or more population. If he lives in a smaller or rural area he doesn't have to have a certificate.

Issues no exemption certificates but does honor those issued by the county tax collector.

At the Thursday meeting it was decided those persons who are over 60 and who reside in the areas annexed to the city should obtain exemption certificates to be eligible to vote in city elections.

The county tax collector will issue the certificates and even though the certificates may show the voter living in Box 18 or 41, it will be honored by the city when he signs affidavit proving he is a citizen of Corsicana.

Exemption certificates and poll tax receipts will not be needed by those living in the new areas annexed in 1950 city elections, Jacobs said.

Jury Wheel Will Be Put In Use For First Time

A jury wheel will be used in the selection of petit jury lists Friday, December 16, for the first time in the history of Navarro County.

Kenner, Reed Lead Navarro Scoring In Feature Tilt

By TALMADGE CANANT
Sun Sports Staff.

Navarro's Bulldogs outscored the Hillsboro Indians, 51-20, Friday night in the feature tilt of a triple cage bill dedicating the new gymnasium at Dawson.

A near-capacity crowd was on hand in the spanking-new basketball layout. The Aquilla girls dubbed the Dawson girls, 36-10, in the curtain-raiser and Aquilla boys turned in a 31-16 decision over the Dawson five in the nightcap.

Kenner Hot.

Long John Kenner, Navarro center, paced his mates to victory with his deadly one-handers to rack up a total of 17 points for high honors for the night, and he dominated the backboard for the Bulldogs in addition to his offensive work.

It was the season opener for the Bulldogs, and their superior ball-handling and deadlier shooting put them out in front from the start. They held a 29-9 halftime advantage over the Hillsboro Junior College five.

Some of Navarro's second stringers started the second half, and Hillsboro began to narrow the margin down. The veterans returned, and the score gap widened out to the final figure.

Second high man in the scoring department behind John Kenner was Bill Reed, who played a grand defensive game and slipped through the Indian defense for four field goals into the mesh.

Relief Men.

Don Granger and Gerry Kenner handled the forward duties well and Oscar Chrisman teamed with Reed at the guard slot. Hal Gene Murphy, Ted Darland, Wilburn Guthrie, Ross Cleveland and D. L. Orr was commendable.

Center Sam Moseley was the high scorer for the losers, hitting three out of the first four gratis tosses for a 10 point total for the night. Markwardt, at forward, was next with six.

The game was a non-conference affair. While it was Navarro's first test of the season, it was the third such game this year for the Hill county cagers.

Dawson Gym.

The Dawson gym, located in the downtown section of the city, is one of the best such buildings in Navarro county. There were no formal dedication ceremonies. Funds for its construction were raised by public subscription. Dawson, School Superintendent Bryant Merrill said.

Bardwell Dumps Panthers, 52-17 In Palmer Meet

Bardwell High school's cagers bounced the Corsicana Junior High Panthers out of the Palmer Invitational tournament Friday night by a score of 52-17.

It was the first defeat of the season for Coach Bill Hay's crew, and they bowed only to superior experience and a team that had been in training much longer than the losers.

The Panthers threw up a strong zone defense in the first quarter, and held a bare 7-6 lead at the end of the first half. Bardwell solved it after a few minutes and led, 22-11 at the half. They were ahead for the rest of the way.

Don Tubbsville led the Panther scoring with 8 points. High score for the night was L. W. Lee of the Bardwell crew, with 22 points.

Benefit Rights Of Unemployed Running Short

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—(UP)—A rapid rise in the number of unemployed workers exhausting jobless benefit rights is causing growing concern among government officials.

Latest figures compiled by the labor department's bureau of employment security show about 800,000 persons ran out of their rights to further unemployment compensation payments during the July-September quarterly period.

These are persons who still didn't have jobs after running through all the unemployment insurance payments they were entitled to. The number of weeks of benefits varies from state to state.

Employment has been gaining lately, and unemployment has been decreasing, so some of the people out of work in the July-September periods may now have found jobs. However, unemployment in November was estimated by the census bureau to be 3,409,000 as compared with 1,831,000 in November 1948. The November 1949 unemployment figure was 2,518,000. The 500,000 figure is more than double the 216,000 exhaustions of the July-September quarter a year ago.

The big question is this: What happens to workers once they run through all their jobless insurance benefits? The bureau of employment security has asked state employment officers to try to find out.

One thing is fairly certain, however. To the extent these workers were receiving unemployment aid, purchasing power is cut when their payments come to an end.

The bureau listed exhaustions for Texas in the July-September period as 4,766, compared to 10,506 in the 1948 period.
